Army Officers Point that After Lapse of Seventy-two Hours but One Regiment Has Reached Border, Which in an Emergency Would Be Fatal-Prepare for Maneuvers.

San Antonio, March 10.-That the present movement of the troops of the United States to San Antonio has demonstrated that the army is not as mobile as present Mexican situation, Baron Uchida, phatic statement of a United States army claimed and that in case of an emergency the army could not be handled with that

Seventy-two hours have elapsed since the order was issued to mass the army on the Mexican border and there is only one regiment here. It will be to-morrow night before shything like the main body of troops arrives," It took the Seventeenth Infantry, which arrived here last night, more than forty-three train hours to cover 1,400 miles. In case of an emergency that would have been fatal to all plans

It is claimed that so far every movement has proved that the United States army has no definite organization which can handle it with that swiftness which is one of the great factors in times of war.

Why the Ball Cartridges?

The next great question of interest is "Why were ball cartridges issued to enlisted men if the present maneuvers were intended as only a military play?"

It is on the lips of every officer in Camp Sam Houston. In doing this all precedents for maneuvers have been broken in this country and in Europe.

Banquet of History Instructors at the Ebbitt House. There are not five men at present in ongress who understand the problems of economics, and that is the reason for the enormous expenditures made for absurd and fruitless things.

This statement was made yesterday by Prof. John L. Tildsley, principal of the De Witt Clinton High School, of New York City, in an address before the members of the Association of History Teachers at the Public Library. James Sullivan, president of the as sociation, read an address prepared by Prof. E. S. Meade, University of Pennsylvania, who was not able to attend

P. L. Kaye, of the Baltimore City Col-lege, and Principal Emory Wilson, of the Central High School, this city, also made addresses. The visiting members of the association were entertained at dinner at the Ebbitt House last night by the Washington representatives. A paper was read by Prof. J. T. Shotwell, of A brief address was made by Prof. Franklin Jameson, president of the Prof. Clark's reading was received historical branch of Carnegie Institute,
